Hickory Corners, Mich.

Where did you get your iris?
From Hickory Gardens, of course.

IRIS

We offer the world's finest irises at attractive prices. They are the cream of the iris world. There is not an old outdated variety listed. Many of them have won the DYKES MEDAL, the highest award an iris may receive. It is given to but one iris a year.

In spite of rising prices we have reduced the price on a number of excellent varieties. The collections, which include only blue ribbon iris, are made up with the idea of giving our customers as much as possible for their money.

It should be remembered that every iris you buy is really a manufacturing plant (no pun intended) which works day and night multiplying and producing more and more beauty. Even a small collection of iris will soon swell into a great multitude with remarkable rapidity.

You will find a life size picture of HEROIQUE in this catalog. We have actually seen it grow as large as the picture. Plant it and astonish your friends and neighbors when it blooms. It is so sturdy that it is not toppled over by heavy wind or rain. We are offering this iris at a special price.

JUNIOR PERENNIALS

We offer a list of outstanding JUNIOR PERENNIALS at much lower prices than are charged for these plants. They are one year old plants, but they have good root systems and will bloom the first year. They possess some advantages over two year old stock; they get started sooner in your garden and are more likely to survive; they save you a great deal of money.

By buying JUNIOR PERENNIALS you can stretch your garden budget so greatly that you can order a greater variety of plants and more of them.

TERMS--Cash with order. Check, money order or bank draft.

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED

We guarantee to fill all your orders to your entire satisfaction. Please write us within five days after receipt of plants about which you have some question. You will find us more than fair in making any adjustments which may be necessary.

We would appreciate your passing this catalog along to a friend. Also we will send our catalog to any of your friends you think may be interested in it. Please send along their names and addresses with your order.

THE VESPER IRIS (Dichotoma)

We quote the following article about the Vesper Iris from the April, 1952, number of the FLOWER GROWER:

"Here's an iris that tells time! At three o'clock every afternoon from late July to frost the 2-inch flowers open into colorful gems of blue, lavender, or wine color, some enhanced by orange, mahogany or tyrian markings on the attractive falls.

"By crossing and selection, the height of the Vesper Iris (I. Dichotoma) has been increased from the 2 feet it attained several decades ago to 3 or even 4 feet, and stems are so wiry that they need no staking. The number of blossoms per plant has been doubled so that a single well grown clump will now display 100 or more flowers every day for a month or even longer, and the new brighter colors which have been added are still being improved each year.

"The candelabra-like branching of the Vesper Iris spaces each open flower in the clump so advantageously that it is usually difficult to find one blossom touching another. From a little distance the flowers look like gorgeous butterflies at rest with outstretched wings. Flower beauty is never marred by wilted blossoms. Each open bloom curls into a graceful little spiral during the night and usually drops to the ground before sunrise to be replaced by another crisp flower the next afternoon.

"What's more, the Vesper Iris is easy to grow! It thrives in half sun or in the open in a great variety of soils, preferring rich, heavy loam, but also tolerating stony, sandy ground. As for hardiness, it survives winters without protection, even when the temperature drops to 15 degrees below zero. This is true only of plants set out before the blooming season. Fall plantings do not become sufficiently established to withstand the rigors of winter.

"Unlike other iris, which must be planted in late summer or fall for spring bloom, the Vesper Iris is ideal for the impatient gardener. Soon after it is set out in spring the blossoms will begin to appear. And it is very rare indeed when a plant fails to do so.

"The jewel-like flowers of the Vesper Iris will attract more hummingbirds and bees than any other flower in your garden. The buzzing bees found in a large planting can be heard almost a block away, yet you may walk through the planting without the slightest danger of being stung--so intent are the bees in gathering the nectar.

"Few gardeners know this delicately beautiful flower. If you want something different for your garden you'll find this a leading candidate. Even if you've never planted a garden before, you'll have success with this easy-to-grow iris."

Mrs. T. W. Barnes, of Oklahoma, sent us the following information about the experience she had with the Vesper Iris:

"I ordered 3 Vesper Iris from you. This year the plants sent up 10 bloom stems and had 6450 blooms. Bloomed from 60 to 225 blooms per day from July 17 to Aug. 29. Flower stems grew 36 inches high.

"Dozens of people have been to see them, and no one has seen one before. It is a strange flower here. Am sure proud of my plants."

We have an excellent crop of Vesper Iris available for spring shipment. Order now so you will be certain to have this lovely and unusual iris blooming in your garden this summer.

DWARF IRIS

Dwarf, or baby iris, are becoming more popular from year to year and also going up in price. Many of them sell for fifty cents to two dollars or more each.

In order to make any showing at all with dwarf iris it is really necessary to buy at least a few dozen plants. The high cost prevents many gardeners from enjoying these beautiful flowers.

Fortunately, dwarf iris are easy to grow from seed. We offer seed from one of the finest collections of dwarf iris in the world. In this collection there were blues, purples, whites, yellows, and various combinations of colors.

You may now acquire a fine large collection of dwarf iris for the price of a single plant. We will send you a generous size packet of seed for only 50 cents postpaid.

Plant the seed as soon as you get it in rows about one half inch deep. Water sufficiently to keep the ground from drying out. After the plants are about three inches tall, prick them out and plant them about eight inches apart in permanent rows. You will be surprised at the rapidity with which these plants grow and their beauty when they burst into bloom.

Dwarf iris are excellent for the rock garden, in foreground plantings, along garden paths and in beds. They bloom early in spring before the tall varieties flower and produce so many blossoms that a row of them looks like a colorful ribbon.

If you want to add the beautiful dwarf iris to your garden, please send your order for seed today. We have but a limited supply which will not last long. All orders will be filled in rotation as received and when our present stock is exhausted we will have to refund as we cannot get this seed anywhere. We know of no other firm that is offering dwarf iris seed.

A LARGE PACKET OF DWARF IRIS SEED $0.50 postpaid

MIRACLE PLANT (Mimosa Pudica)

We have been fortunate enough to secure a limited supply of seed of the most remarkable plant we have ever seen. It has beautiful green foliage and fern-like leaves. When you touch the plant the leaves on that particular branch will fold up just lo fold up just like folding a piece of paper. And that is not all. The branches will droop so greatly that they appear to be almost broken off.

Within fifteen or twenty minutes, however, the leaves will spread out into their usual position and the branches will pull themselves up again. No matter how many times you touch the plant it will always perform in the same fashion.

Here is a plant which appears to have muscles and its strength may be increased. The branches will pull up a light weight suspended on them. This may be increased from time to time until the lifting power of the plant will be doubled.

Fortunately this unusual plant may easily be grown from seed in the house or out of doors. If you can grow radishes you can grow the MIRACLE PLANT. Plant the seed in pots in the house and after the plants shoot up a few inches transfer them to individual pots. A three or four inch pot will do.

The plants will grow rapidly in the house if placed in a sunny window. This remarkable plant will astonish your friends and neighbors. You will have plenty of plants to use as bridge prizes or as gifts, and they will be appreciated.

We cannot urge you too strongly to get your order into the mail today. Our supply of seed is limited.

The price: Only 35 cents for a generous packet of seed.

MATCHLESS LETTUCE--THE WORLD'S BEST

Leafy green vegetables are among our most healthful foods. They are, unfortunately, usually greatly lacking in the American diet. They supply vitamins, iron, and other minerals which are needed for blood building.

Head lettuce, which consists largely of blanched leaves, is of little value compared with MATCHLESS LETTUCE, which is rich green and an excellent source of vitamins and minerals as well as chlorophyll. Head lettuce found on the market may be a week or more old before it reaches your table. Green vegetables lose their potency as far as vitamins are concerned every hour they are on the grocer's shelves. Many tests have shown that the loss in many instances is so great that the vitamin content is negligible.

Why not get your vitamins from the garden instead of a bottle. It is far less expensive and natural vitamins are superior to synthetic ones.

MATCHLESS LETTUCE has such delicious flavor that every member of your family will like it. Many gardeners eat it fresh from the garden without benefit of dressing of any sort. It is sweet and tender, in fact, you must try it to appreciate it.

THE PRICE--only 30 cents for a generous sized packet. Mix it thoroughly with a cup of dry sand so the seeds will be spaced far enough to prevent overcrowding. This seed is expensive and scarce and should not be wasted.
